Palace of Culture exhibits monumental stained glass artist's Egons Cēsinieks (1915 -1978) artwork "Uguns un Nakts" ("Fire and Night") made in 1971.

DAUGAVPILS PALACE OF CULTURE MULTIMEDIA HALL "DAUGAVPILS KINO"

The multimedia hall features films and animated features from prominent international film studios. The hall offers 96 seats and accommodates 3 wheelchairs.

The National Cultures Centre operates within the structure of Daugavpils Palace of Culture and unites three cultural spaces across the city's neighborhoods. Neighborhood cultural spaces are open and creative meeting places where local communities strengthen cultural diversity and shape the dynamics of city life through events, art, and traditions.

For over two centuries, this market has been a fixture here, located in the historic Bread Square and Fish Market area. You'll always find fresh produce from local farmers and producers – everything from fish and meat to fruits, vegetables, dairy, and bread. The mix of local and exotic goods makes it a true reflection of the city, a place where you can pick up curd snacks produced in Latgale or some fiery Asian spices.

Fortress FLEA MARKET

The Daugavpils Fortress regularly hosts a flea market when the weather is consistently warm. Anyone who is interested, willing and able to participate in an exciting haggling over various antique and interesting items is invited to participate in the flea market.

Information about the flea market schedule is available at the Daugavpils Fortress Visitor Centre.

Riga Street MARKETS

Over the years, Riga's street markets have grown in popularity among both shoppers and vendors, sometimes attracting more than 100 vendors from various parts of Latvia and neighbouring countries. The market offers homemade goodies, artisan crafts, and a variety of other beautiful and useful things.
